Complementary feed (liquid) for rabbits

For the support of a healthy gastrointestinal mucosa and intestinal activity

GreenBunny DarmStark contains, in addition to essential oils of oregano, digestion-optimizing tannins. The digestive tract is supported by stimulating enzyme formation and improving feed conversion. Tannins, with their astringent properties, can help seal permeable intestinal mucosa and optimize fecal consistency.

GreenBunny DarmStark thus supports the condition of the intestinal flora in a nutrient-related way. A well-conditioned and immune-strengthened intestinal ambience makes it more difficult for endoparasites to settle in the intestine. This in turn also lowers the germ pressure in the stable, as fewer pathogenic germs are consequently excreted. Therefore, a healthy intestine is of particular importance for keeping animals healthy.
