Complementary feed (powder) for puppies

Natural, hostile to worms feed supplement for puppies

The microbiome of puppies first develops from birth and is only fully mature at 6-12 months. As a result, puppies are particularly susceptible to all therapeutic measures that affect the gut and react to many chemical worming treatments with mild to very severe diarrhea, as the developing microbiome is also attacked.

cdProtect Puppy was developed in collaboration with veterinary practitioners and herbalists to help puppies build up healthy intestinal flora, stabilize intestinal health, and create a hostile to worms intestinal environment, especially during this sensitive time.

The balanced combination of natural ingredients gently supports the digestive tract and contributes to a stable internal balance. This allows puppies to develop into healthy and vital dogs.

The vet4Institute and many parasitology experts generally recommend checking the animal's worm infestation by regularly monitoring the fecal samples (worm monitoring).

Expert tip: To build up the intestinal flora, we recommend feeding DarmAktiv from the 4. week onwards.

Composition: peat, carrot pomace, organic grated coconut, pumpkin seeds, oregano, rockrose

Analytical constituents: crude protein 7.5%, crude fat 23.2%, crude fiber 9.3%, crude ash 6.3%

Feeding recommendation: Add to the feed daily for 4 days. Puppies under 1 kg: 1 pinch. Puppies over 1 kg: 0.5 g/1 kg body weight. Repeat after 10-14 days. 1 quarter tsp. corresponds to ca. 0.5 g.
