Product description

SwineFit is a unique combination of herbs, fruit and vegetables. Thanks to the optimal combination of ingredients, it contains many vitamins, minerals, and secondary plant substances that can provide intensively support for the digestive system and metabolic organs during initial difficulties in piglet rearing and in times of crises. SwineFit has proved particularly effective in strengthening the performance of weakened and stressed piglets. Piglets in crisis drink more water than healthy litters.

The natural plant substances have a positive effect on digestion and feed intake. The improved feed intake and utilization as well as the nutritional strengthening of the liver and kidneys due to the special herbal recipe can reduce the risk of runts, especially in crisis litters. SwineFit can also be fed to sows around the time of birth.

Feeding-related support in the event of start-up difficulties and times of crisis, e.g. new stabling, composite litters, and nurse litters
Support for optimum rearing of young animals - less runts
Support for the liver, kidneys, and immune system
