Product description

COLUMBAVet VulcanoMineral is particularly suitable to supply carrier pigeons with the necessary minerals and trace elements during the journey.

Since all ingredients come from purely natural sources, they are metabolized very well and do not put additional strain on the liver of the pigeon. Volcanic earth (bentonite) can already intercept toxins in the digestive tract before they burden the organism, thus intestine and liver are being protected.

The pigeon goes optimally prepared for the journey. After the trip, the electrolytes contained support a rapid regeneration.

binding of toxins
for more vitality and performance strength contains electrolytes for faster regeneration after the flight does not contain synthetic vitamins
