Product description

Circulation Spray Gel, the innovative advancement of cdVet, for the care. The spray technology makes it easy and quick to use. Circulation Spray Gel immediately penetrates the skin without leaving greasy residues in the process. It provides the skin with nutrient- and care substances and intensively promotes blood circulation without making the skin brittle. The oils used keep the skin supple naturally. Circulation Spray Gel is particularly nourishing, refreshing and beneficial. Moreover, peppermint and eucalyptus oils also have a cooling effect on the skin. Blood circulation is an essential factor in the process of all bodily functions. Because only where blood comes to, the body can initiate healing processes itself.

Blood circulation is important: at bruises
for the respiratory tract for the condition of the mammary glands at sore muscles at tension of muscles

at overstraining of joints at hematomas
for stimulating the metabolism
