Product description

MicroMineral contains 100% pure natural ingredients, which are rich in natural, readily available micronutrients such as minerals, trace elements, vitamins, etc., and because of their herbal origin, don't burden the detoxification organs further. An optimal natural supply of minerals like calcium, magnesium and a complex of essential trace elements and alginates is thus made possible. By feeding grain feed as sole feed can occurs deficiencies especially at birds which cannot fly free. Synthetic additives cannot remove this deficiencies completely. Thus cdVet MicroMineral for birds should not fail in the daily feeding. As addition to fodder for a natural mineralization and coverage with vitamins. One needs to pay attention to an optimal supply of micronutrients: - while in growth - while molt - while breeding - in stressful situations - for plumage and skin - problems in older animals - for metabolic problems and allergies Possible consequences of trace-element and micronutrient deficiency: - increased loss of plumage - picking of plumage - scabby skin - mat plumage - developmental delays -degeneration of bones and joints - weak immune system - early developing signs of aging - stress susceptibility - eggbound
